Download WireSSound Plug-In for Cubase 7/CS7 Another satisfied customer here, I am so happy to find such a great plugin like WireSSound. I was using the official Cubase Audio to DSP module and it was SO easy to use, so i decided to switch to the full version WireSSound for Cubase 7. Its one of the very best. There are multiple presets, no presets that you cant configure, and every possible param is there to make the plugin do things its supposed to do. You can use it both as a VST, or a DSP. There are 8 different filters and 8 different effects, that are not only great sound sculpting tools, but they also have great filtering features. Very flexible, plenty of presets, and an easy to use GUI. This is a great choice. WireSSound for Cubase 7 is a Plugin that allows for total control over your sound creation, whether you are in the studio or on the road. It delivers a unique, vintage sound to your projects and brings a totally new level of sound sculpting to Cubase. WireSSound is the perfect companion for your live performances and can also be used as a virtual instrument in Cubase and other DAW's. WireSSound for Cubase 7 Plugin: WireSSound for Cubase 7 works as a plug-in for Cub

The AFL season kicks off this weekend and after doing some prep work last week, I've decided to get my team in order and start preparing for another run of games. The Six Foot One and a Quarter Club As I have been for the past few years, I'm going to run the numbers this week with some Big 6 and Kickers. Two years ago, my stats were on the up and this year, they have been a little more erratic. I will use these numbers to develop my team and then tweak things for the week. In no particular order, here are my key stats. Byron Firth and Renmark's Justin Westwood Justin is a bit of a mystery and much of the reason for this is because he plays a key position but not one that I can get by the season. Most of his games are in the forward line, kicking 3 goals per game and averaging 34 disposals. I think he's a solid enough option as a senior, but I don't think he's a guy I'd drop for an untried rookie. In his best game against South Bendigo at AAMI, he recorded 34 disposals and 3 goals.
