If your receiver is different then you may need a converter to sort this one out. You can get it from the same place as the pod (i.e. You need to buy one from the IOS) The only issue with the new IOS is that you cannot change volume at the same time that you are listening to music. We also talk about PlayStation VR, gaming in general and more. If you would like to get in contact with me, you can find me on Twitter, Instagram or Facebook (though you'll probably need to subscribe to my twitter). Thank you for listening to the show. I hope that you will give me some feedback as to what you liked, what you disliked and what you think can be improved. The show wouldn't be as good for me and for you if it isn't valuable or interesting for you. Happy to learn that Sony has released PlayStation 4 firmware update 1.50.
